Please note, at the beginning of your Life Planner, you will find your birth chart and aspect grid with a list of the planet aspects of your birth chart. What follows are interpretations of transiting planets and the aspects, they make to the planet positions of your birth chart.

Your Life Planner should only be used as a helpful guide. At all time, it is for you to choose the best path to follow from what is written below and develop the most positive and rewarding parts of your character.

Retrograde Planets and Why Interpretations Repeat

The word, 'retrograde' means, quite simply, 'directed or moving backward'. Planets don't actually move backward but a complex astronomical process causes some to appear to do so at times – similar to the effect of two trains moving in the same direction and one at a slower speed, or what we see when we look out of the window of a car overtaking another. Briefly, both the slower train or car being overtaken appear to be moving backward.

Each planet in your natal chart represents a particular 'energy'. Retrograde planets, although regarded as being in a 'weakened state' astrologically because energies are drawn inward, offer wonderful opportunities for growth and shouldn't be seen as negative in a natal chart. Retrograde planets hold great astrological significance as they offer opportunities to reflect upon actions or decisions in the past that correlate to the planet's energies and qualities – and what needs to be reassessed and can be improved once the planet moves 'forward', or 'direct'.

Although retrograde planets do not deny us opportunities, they can delay key events in our lives. People with many retrograde planets in their natal chart often must experience steep learning curves before they can experience success in the area of their chart affected by one or more retrograde planets but will have benefited enormously from reflection, assessment and valuable lessons learned along the way!

Life Changing Events

Emerging or Overstating Period

Jupiter trends from 3rd July 2018 to 2nd July 2019

June 21st 2018 onwards to July 29th 2018

Your Spirits are Lifted

Transiting Jupiter Conjuncts your natal Saturn

Your life is not as unpromising as you think. There is hope and a ray of sunshine that follows. Hang in there and you will discover what sort of career you want to have and what role you want to play in the community.

This may stimulate you to take a course or want to start your own business. Now you seek some freedom from your responsibilities or you are happy to accept your lot.

Therefore, you may feel the need to take a holiday - which would be good for you. Your superiors have more confidence in you now and reward you accordingly. This is a good time to advance at work.

Remember there is integrity and contentment in doing your duty. Any excess can prove costly, be prudent. You may learn something about your parents or career.

Best Time For - Rewarding yourself for past efforts, and planning your future.

Activities To Avoid - Being conservative and negative. Spending too much.

August 23rd 2018 onwards to September 7th 2018

Tremendous progress could now be made in all professional and business matters. Feeling more competitive, confident and ambitious you will now be prepared to work harder than ever before to reach personal goals and ambitions. Promotions and pay rises are likely or your business is likely to expand. You may also receive public recognition or award.

You will now seemingly be in the right place at the right time meeting all the right people. Therefore, the culmination of all present and previous efforts should now bring tremendous success - some people may see this as a lucky break for you - but you know that this success wasn't so much luck as sheer hard graft.

Travel is likely and whilst winging your way around the world new friendships will be formed, probably with influential people who can in some way help to raise your standards of living. For example, they may introduce you to new job opportunities, or provide support in business ventures.

However, beware an element of arrogance with your newly acquired status. A temporary bout of giddiness at such new previously unexplored heights is understandable - but you must learn to quickly adjust and remember that everyone is equal.

Cyclical Theme

Socially this is an important time for you as you are now developing a sense of place for yourself in the business and social world in which you move. Your optimism and unbridled faith in your abilities to succeed are being tempered by the hard-cold facts of the business world, social position, and educational system.

Are you measuring up? Do you need more experience, education, or need to move in a new social circle, or have you cracked it? Have you got what it takes to be successful, a leader, or are you a follower, a worker?

The answers to these questions will affect you for the next 30 years and influence the long-range plans that you will be making during this time. If you are under 30, this will be a new start, possibly professionally for you, if you are over 40 it's probably a change in career or social outlook.

Practical Experiences

Your business growth and professional life have slowed down during this time. Your debts must be paid off before you move on. Consolidate and organize so that you don't lose everything. In doing so you will increase your reputation within the business community and people will have confidence in you in the future.

Psychological Experiences

Extreme highs and lows, balance your life as you move between optimism and pessimism. Caution and slow meticulous progress is the key here. If you've been burning the candles at both ends you now pay the price. You are forced to come back to reality and contain your professional enthusiasm and beliefs within the real world.
