Child Development

Welcome to Christina's Child Development profile. Its purpose is to give a unique insight into Christina's character and potential including her strengths and weaknesses, talents and qualities, needs and desires. It will help guide Christina through the minefield of choices and decisions which lie ahead on her individual journey through life.

As Christina's Profile is extremely specific, it requires an accurate birth time. If you do not know the precise time of Christina's birth, some sections of the information may not be relevant although the overall interpretation will still be valid.

Child Development is divided into 3 Chapters - detailed on the next page.

Chapter 1 - Laying Down Foundations

Chapter 2 - Process of Development - Toddler to Teenager

Chapter 3 - Preparing for Independence

The 'Aspects' or individual characteristics are given a Star Rating from one to five to show their relative importance in the Profile. To the right of each pair of 'aspect' symbols is a group of five stars, the more dark stars there are the more important the connection.

In order to produce a valid and balanced report it is necessary to define both the positive and negative qualities of Christina. When reading Child Development you will find both the positive and negative qualities of Christina defined. Most people will be happy to learn about the positive ones, while others may get upset over the negative ones.

We all possess contradictions in our personality; they are what give us our uniqueness. With Child Development we have tried to balance all qualities as much as possible so you get a good overview. Some Young Persons have more positive charts while others have some difficulties indicated in their charts and this will manifest in their personality.

The 'Child Development' profile as outlined here is not set in stone and can be developed positively with your help. If the profile is positive you simply support and direct Christina. Where the profile indicates difficulties for Christina, guidance, direction and boundaries will be important.

Child Development is suitable for any young person from about sixteen months old and upwards. That is when she will start manifesting the qualities described. If you are having this profile prepared for a newly born child you will have to wait some time before it begins to make sense and be of value.

Chapter1 - Laying Down Foundations

1. Essential Character - this profiles the general trends and outstanding characteristics of Christina's personality, and includes the nature of her relationship with her father.

However this is not easily defined* so the section entitled 'Emotional and Feeling Nature' must be considered carefully together with this opening section.

* Between the first two sections, which deal essentially with father and mother there is a short section on 'The Dominant Parent'. We do not try to come to a definitive conclusion here but tradition states that the father is externally dominant and the mother is emotionally, or internally, dominant. Make your own decision as to which parent fits the bill best.

2. Emotional and Feeling Nature - this shows how the more passive and sensitive side of Christina's nature is likely to develop and also comments on the nature of the relationship with her mother.

3. At this point we look more directly at the Relationship Between Christina and her Mother.
4. Face and Persona - this is a description of Christina's physical nature; and also her general approach to the world; the way she sees it; and the way she likes to be seen. For instance, does she wear rose-tinted glasses or does she view the world from behind dark glasses?

Chapter 2 - Process of Development - Toddler to Teenager

1. Assertiveness - this describes how Christina makes her presence felt and if she is essentially active or passive. Does she like to push her way to the front, or stay determinedly in the background?
2. Friends and Social Attitudes - this looks at how Christina will get on with others. For instance, will she be a bit of a loner, have hundreds of friends, or just a few who are useful, and so on.
3. Power of the Mind - this describes the approach Christina is likely to take towards the intellectual and academic side of her life and how she will respond to the strictness of education.
4. Earning and Spending Money - this looks at how Christina will handle the money in her pocket or purse. Spendthrift or miser? Such traits establish themselves early and tend to remain with us all our lives.

Chapter 3 - Preparing for Independence

1. Higher Education and Establishing Values - this section describes how Christina, approaching complete independence, lays down the belief and educational framework that will sustain her through her adult life.
2. Approach to Daily Working Life - this looks at how Christina is likely to fare in the harsh world of work. What drive, if any, she has to succeed and how she will deal with the inevitable day-to-day necessities of work.
3. Career and Ambitions - this final section examines how Christina might approach the business of how to make her mark on life, and what areas might be the most productive for her as she grows steadily older.

Chapter 1 - Laying Down Foundations - Essential Character

The Sun signifies our inner sense of identity, and our will. It is the single most important planet in our birth chart and generally describes what we are seeking to become through the journey of life, or perhaps our 'destiny'.

Easy-going

Sun in Sagittarius

Christina's restless spirit will be hard to contain. The ruler of her Sun sign is Jupiter, a planet whose nature is typified by the quality of growth and exaggeration, and it is this tendency to inflate things that will drive Christina to expand her horizons to the uttermost limits. Exploring this enormous territory to the full may take her all her life.

The territory may be physical, in which case Christina may spend time journeying and living away from the country of her birth, or it may be the territory of her mind.

It is most likely to be the latter, for Christina is a seeker of learning and wisdom. Not, it must be said, so that she can bask in a self-congratulatory glow at her own cleverness, but so that she can pass on that wisdom - so that she can pass on her visions and dreams to others.

For such a happy-go-lucky and easy-going person, she is surprisingly highly principled, ethical and idealistic. She operates within a firm moral framework, and has a strong sense of justice and truth.

Her insistence on speaking the truth may lead her into tactlessness, but there will never be any deliberate intention to cause pain. She may offend through carelessness, but never callousness. Christina will be generous, affectionate, and invariably is fun to be around.

Her interests are far ranging and eclectic, and she needs constant stimulus. She also needs freedom. Adaptable, she can change direction easily and enthusiastically, and can plan ahead with vision and insight.

In her relationships, Christina will be just as casual, just as light-hearted, as in every other aspect of her life. Partners will be attracted to her by the warmth of her personality and not because of any romantic qualities!

Due to Jupiter's benign influence, Christina will be both philosopher and clown. She will have a great sense of fun and a warm, generous - even extravagant - nature. Buoyant, exuberant, she'll know how to enjoy herself, how to have fun, and will love to give pleasure to her many friends.

Christina will be always ready for a new experience, a new adventure, the riskier the better! There will be nothing she's afraid to tackle, and nowhere she's afraid to go. To Christina, the journey is what is important, not the destination. To this most optimistic child, it really will be better to travel hopefully than to arrive.

Christina's Wilfulness

Forceful

Sun in the 1st House

Christina will have a very forceful character and always push herself to the front in any situation. She will demand appreciation and recognition for what she regards as her uniqueness. She will always have an innate belief that she is a star and will expect to be treated as such. Self-confidence can translate into arrogance if not channelled correctly.

Dream Catcher ★★☆☆☆

Sun Conjuncts Neptune

Christina will be very idealistic and highly imaginative in her creativity and self-expression. She will be a sensitive, artistic child who needs room to follow her dreams.

She is compassionate and caring, highly tuned into other people and their emotional nuances, indeed she could well have strong psychic abilities and imaginary friends are very likely in early years. She will have powerful escapist tendencies and it is important that these are directed positively when young so they don't become destructive in later life. She is also a bit of a wanderer and she'll probably go missing from time to time only to turn up in some unexpected place perfectly hale and hearty.

The Dominant Parent

In this section we are using traditional astrological rules for defining Christina's relationship with her father. However this may well be more applicable to Christina's Mother. Generally one or other of the parents has the strongest influence in developing Christina's approach to the outside world. Traditionally this has been the father's role but it could perfectly well apply to her Mother, hence the use of the phrase 'The Dominant Parent'.

Common Sense

Virgo 10th House Cusp

Christina will learn from her relationship with her father to have a rather analytical and practical approach to the outside world. Christina sees her father as a slightly detached and rather 'thoughtful' type, but not the 'dreamer' variety. There will always be plenty of common sense available, but will there be much emotional support?

Emotional and Feeling Nature

In this section we shall examine how Christina relates on an emotional level. This is traditionally associated with the maternal relationship but we have not made such an obvious assumption and the following section should not be read as being primarily concerned with the relationship between Christina and her mother.

Astrologically, the Moon describes her responses, sensitivity, her feeling nature, and the unconscious side of her personality. It shows her emotions and these, of course, will be filtered, or highlighted, by the sign in which the Moon falls. Most importantly, the Moon shows Christina needs.

It shows how she will react on an instinctive level.

Dependable

Moon in Capricorn

Christina needs status and respect.

Shy as a child, she will be emotionally cautious and insecure as an adult. She will rarely express her feelings or reveal her emotions, for she fears to run the risk of rejection. Christina has a very realistic appreciation of what she must do in order to achieve the things she wants, and she is not afraid of hard work.

Ambitious and determined, she will realistically appraise each opportunity for its value in furthering her progress. Christina is dependable, dignified and loyal, but her stoic self-reliance may sometimes make her appear isolated and alone.

Facets of Life and Areas of Experience

The Houses of the chart represent different facets of Christina's life and areas of her experience which in turn are 'influenced by the Moon' in slightly different ways - as detailed below.

Solid Values

☾ 2nd

Moon in the 2nd House

With this placement, stability and resourcefulness are conferred and in later life business matters are enhanced, for Christina's instincts are practical and realistic. Material security and the establishment of good, solid values will make Christina feel emotionally comfortable.

Food will also help to make her feel secure and, when stressed, she may resort to 'comfort eating'. Indeed the word security is very important to Christina and she will hold tightly to whatever it is that makes her feel safe and this often takes the form of physical property.

Natural Balance ★★☆☆☆

Moon Sextiles Venus

Christina is a natural born charmer who - with a smile, and a twinkle in her eye - will get what she wants out of life. She will grow up to be stylish and sophisticated, and much of her natural balance can be traced back to a warm and positive relationship with her mother.

My Way - 'Close One' ★★★★★

Moon Squares Pluto

For Christina life, especially as regards her mother is based on the idea that if she doesn't push the button first the other person will, and this power complex derives from her relationship with her mother, which she perceives as being about control and manipulation.

She may well have things completely out of proportion but that is her prerogative. She will veer from intense charm, to tantrum, to cold, hard eyed sulk, all in order to get her own way. There is an underlying fear behind all this that can be helped by a lot of reassurance.

Christina's Relationship with her Mother

It is important to understand that the relationship between Christina and her mother will always be 'symbiotic'. In other words the way Christina's Mother behaves towards her child and the way Christina perceives her mother is so inextricably linked that it is hard to separate the one from the other. Does Christina's mother react to Christina or does Christina react to her mother? This is perhaps the original chicken and egg question, and in this section we shall try to address this issue.

Self-sufficiency

Moon in Capricorn

This is never an easy placement and, whether it is true or not, Christina will almost certainly feel she doesn't get the level of affection she should. It is as if she senses rejection and coldness all the time. Her mother will have high expectations for her and she may find it difficult to live up to these no matter how hard she tries. She may treat her as a little adult, giving her far too much responsibility too early.

Career and profession come later; she needs to find her own way rather than expecting her to live out her mother's ambitions and most importantly she needs to feel the wonderment of childhood. Christina probably expects her mother to be very traditional, to be tough on her; and being treated with gentleness and kindness might prove slightly baffling as she tends to feel unwanted or unloved, but a constant show of affection will go a long way towards alleviating her fears.

Because she is sensitive and afraid to express emotions, she can seem unresponsive and may send out messages of self-sufficiency. If she can learn to express her feelings she is unlikely to carry a sense of rejection into adult life.

Stability

Moon in the 2nd House

Christina is essentially a sensuous, tactile child who needs a great deal of physical contact. She also needs to find areas in which she can express her naturally creative talents, and here her mother can play a vital role through encouragement. Christina does have an overpowering need for physical security and once she gets past the food stage may well exhibit a great interest in accumulating money.

She is not the kind of child who will respond well to upheavals in her domestic life, preferring things to remain as stable as possible and she will look to her mother to provide this stability.

Face or Persona

This section looks at how Christina views the world and likes to be viewed by others. No matter what Christina's essential nature may be, all of us have a 'face' that we put on for our nearest and dearest, as well as for public consumption and this section describes that 'face or persona'.

Freedom Lover

AS ↗

Sagittarius rising

As a child, Christina is likely to be somewhat clumsy, both in her actions and her speech. Although, eventually, she may stop falling out of trees or off her bicycle, she is unlikely to grow out of her Sagittarian tactlessness until she is much older - if at all! It should be stressed, however, that this tactlessness springs not from malice, nor from a desire to hurt, but from her extreme honesty, for Christina has a high regard for the truth.

As a child at school she may lack application, and will be a less than ideal pupil if lessons are dull and routine. However, if inspired by a teacher who can stimulate her interest and who - more importantly - acknowledges her intelligence and has faith in her ability to succeed, she will rise to the challenge, regardless of whether it is intellectual, physical or creative. Christina is totally unable to resist a challenge.

"To teach is to learn twice" is a saying, which applies particularly to those born with Sagittarius rising, and Christina is likely to display the qualities of a natural teacher, and to have a life-long thirst for learning and knowledge.

The search for understanding may lead her to explore many philosophies or creeds, and involve her in many journeys - both of a cerebral and a physical nature. If the latter, Christina will be never so happy as when off on her travels, back-packing her way round the world, meeting new and interesting people and immersing herself in different cultures and communities.

Even if she never sets foot outside her hometown, freedom and personal 'space' will be important to Christina. She cannot be tied down, and will find it difficult to make long-term commitment.

The planetary ruler of those born with Sagittarius rising is Jupiter, whose nature is to expand all it touches, and Christina may therefore be prone to the 'Jupiterian' trait of exaggeration.

Nothing will ever be so ordinary as 'big': it will be 'GIGANTIC'. Every bruise and ache will be the worst pain ever endured in the history of human suffering. And practically every sentence she utters will contain the words 'a million'. The only way to counteract this is to say: "I've told you a million times already not to exaggerate").

Christina's chart ruler, Jupiter, is also the planet of optimism and confidence. As a consequence of this planetary influence, over-estimation of her abilities may lead her to bite off more than she can comfortably chew, with the end result that she will invariably be in a mad panic to meet deadlines, and be late for appointments. And the only way she may be sure of catching a train is to miss the one before!

Enthusiastic

 1st

Sun in the 1st House

'Larger than life' is the best way of describing Christina. Her enormous personality will fill the room from the minute she first walks in.

It will be totally impossible to overlook such a vibrant character as Christina. Energetic, open and vital, she'll attack life with vitality - to say nothing of a sort of child-like naiveté that will typify her outlook even when she's old and grey!

She'll take the initiative in everything she's involved with for she is a natural leader, and others will look to her for direction. She'll never be content with a seat at the back of the stadium: 'out front' is where she likes to be, and she has to come 'first' in everything. Of course, there is always the attendant risk that this particular placing can make Christina a little overbearing and bossy, but its positive attributes far outweigh the negative.

Her approach to life is enthusiastic, assertive (often aggressive!), forthright and sometimes foolhardy. She'll demand appreciation, recognition for her uniqueness, and the opportunity to exercise her natural authority.

Thwart her, and the resultant frustration could lead to disruptive and extremely antagonistic conduct. It will be vital for Christina to find a constructive outlet for her energy and competitive personality. Sparks will fly, otherwise!

Self-reliant

 1st

Mercury in the 1st House

Generally, the first word uttered by most children when they learn to speak is "Mama". This is not likely to be the case with Christina, who has Mercury, the planet that rules communication, in the first house of her birth chart.

"Why?" is the word you will be accustomed to hearing every minute of the day.

A curious and inquisitive child, Christina will grow into a quick-witted and intelligent adult with an enquiring and intellectual view of life. Self-reliant, she is not one to meet life's problems with an emotional response (or a flood of tears), but will tackle them with a combination of reason and logic.

She will be very observant, and every experience in life will be grist to her mill. Whatever her ultimate destination, her path towards it is likely to lead through the field of communication, for she is well-equipped with the ability and drive to express herself. She is a natural communicator.

Easily bored, she will switch from one thing to another without so much as a backward glance. There may be a tendency to superficiality, and for Christina to be a 'jack of all trades, master of none'.

Words will be her forte, and her love. She is likely to talk at an early age (she will probably walk early, too). In her spare time she will invariably be found with her nose stuck in a book and, when older, she may like to venture out and travel. She may also be adept at working with her hands.

Bright and witty, Christina will probably be a bit of a mimic; a storyteller; a gossip and a joke-smith. She will make many friends with whom she will love to chat, debate and argue. She will have an opinion on everything, and air it whenever possible!

Impressionable

Neptune in the 1st House

Dreamy and sensitive, Christina is a highly impressionable child, attuned to the moods and feelings of others.

Her entire personality will be influenced by her experiences, her surroundings, and those she is involved with. In this respect she is rather like the chameleon that can easily disguise itself in order to blend in, and merge with the background.

The fundamental principle of Neptune is to dissolve, and to negate differences. Those born with Neptune in the first house of self are affected by this 'dissolving' quality, and individuals with this placement may suffer a life-long lack of strong self-identity.

Christina will probably be a great daydreamer, weaving wonderful stories in her mind, and enjoying a fantasy world where anything is possible. She will find it hard at school to concentrate on her lessons, and may lack application for such disciplines as mathematics or science, preferring (and doing well at) literature, drama, or history.

Christina is likely to be artistic, with a talent for dance, music, acting or painting (such artistry is often inspired by mystical visions, and subliminal influences). If other factors in her chart agree, she may be extremely intuitive - and possibly even clairvoyant.

The influence of Neptune on such an important sector of her chart may lead to a blurring of Christina's boundaries. She may be confused and disordered, and find it hard to distinguish between reality and illusion. And there is always a temptation, when Neptune is found in the first house, for the individual's escape from reality to be found through the medium of drink or drugs.

Christina will be a kind, compassionate and empathetic person, ever sensitive to the suffering of others. She will be attracted to 'lame dogs', the flawed, and those whose sorry plight will enable her to play the role of 'rescuer'. She will often wish to help the less fortunate even though it may involve the sacrifice of some aspect of herself. If this is taken to extremes, she could become a 'doormat' or a martyr, making few or no demands for herself.

Chapter 2 - Process of Development - Toddler to Teenager

Assertion

In this section we will be looking at the way in which Christina finds her way through the rough and tumble of childhood and later life, without being pushed around by others. The methods and approaches she uses to make sure her own needs are met and how she deals with the needs of others when they are at odds with her own.

Possessive

♂ 2nd

Mars in the 2nd House

Christina is not too assertive generally but once she has attached herself to somebody she can become possessive. She may have difficulty in expressing anger until it builds up and then explodes. It would be helpful for her to learn it is fine to express her anger so long as she doesn't hurt anybody doing it!

Friends and Social Attitudes

In this section we shall be looking at what sort of friends Christina needs and what she is likely to bring to friendships herself. We shall also look at the way in which she is likely to interact with social groups or whether, for example, she would prefer to be on her own.

Friendly

♌ 11th

Libra 11th House Cusp

For Christina, being sociable is at the very core of life. She will always have a great number of friends and her wish to be liked by all will prove very rewarding in many ways. However, she must be careful that this desire does not lead her to compromise herself.

Judgmental

♃ 11th

Jupiter in the 11th House

Socially, Christina likes to be associated with people whom she perceives as educated or philosophical - occasionally simply clowns. She is generous to her friends and, although she likes to think she is essentially democratic and fair to all, in truth she might be quite judgmental and even, on occasion, slightly snobbish.

Bit of a Loner

♄ 11th

Saturn in the 11th House

Christina is not a terribly social character, by nature being quite happy to be on her own. She will not make friends very easily as others see her as rather cool and aloof. This is not really the case; it is simply that she has a natural reserve that may come from a fear of not being liked. As she grows older she needs as much encouragement in socialising as possible - without being bullied into things!

Close Friends

♇ 11th

Pluto in the 11th House

Christina is unlikely to have a vast number of friends, but those she does have will be very close and she will feel very intensely towards them. On the other hand, there is always the possibility that Christina will chose to move in rather hidden circles and may have to be careful not to wind up at odds with society.

More on Christina's Friends and Social Groups

Divide and Rule

 12th

Uranus in the 12th House

Christina may well be rather secretive about her social life and her friends may not get to meet each other. There is an element of 'divide and rule' in Christina's nature. She may swing between believing she should dedicate her life to the betterment of society, and regarding society as something to be manipulated for her own benefit. Either way she is unlikely to display a great deal of conventionality in her choice of social life.

Power of the Mind

In this section we indicate Christina's communication and learning skills, her needs at school and requirements for her further education. Of particular interest to her parents will be how to talk and connect with her.

Quick Mind

 03rd

Aquarius 3rd House Cusp

Christina has an exceptionally bright, quick mind, which is both versatile and disciplined, and her interests are far ranging and eclectic. Her thinking is objective and clear, and she follows her own convictions and sets her own agenda. Emotions will never cloud issues so far as Christina is concerned, for her thought processes are strictly logical and impersonal. She is likely to enjoy scientific subjects at school.

More about Christina's Mental Approach

Direct and Truthful

Mercury in Sagittarius

Christina has a mind that thirsts for knowledge. But she will not be satisfied with accumulating simply a vast mental storeroom of facts. What is far more important to her, vital in fact is that her quest for knowledge should result in finding significance and meaning.

Mentally restless, eager to learn and to understand, she is a perpetual student, ever ready to increase her store of knowledge through books or personal experience. An 'intellectual adventurer', she delights in exploring, and will continue to delight in it to the end of her life.

Christina may be short on patience and discipline. She is not a 'detail' person. She is quick to grasp the overall picture of an idea, and tends to act with enthusiasm but with little in the way of planning and careful execution.

At school she may be somewhat slapdash in her approach to learning, and sports will probably attract her more than lessons. In fact, further or adult education may be more beneficial to her and more appropriate to her needs, than the schooling of her early learning years.

Within the school system she is likely to do well at languages, while in maturity she may be drawn to philosophy, the law, sociology, or comparative religions.

Her speech, a never-ending torrent of words! is open, direct and generally truthful. Such direct and truthful speech is never deliberately malicious, but it can often be extremely tactless. In fact, it may seem that every time Christina opens her mouth, she puts her foot in it!

A hugely entertaining way with words is the astrological talent enjoyed by those who, like Christina, have Mercury in Sagittarius. A superb raconteur, she will be always ready with one of the long and very funny 'shaggy dog' stories she loves to tell. But be warned - she is prone to wild exaggeration!

Fast Learner

 1st

Mercury in the 1st House

When Mercury is found in the first house, it indicates a sharpening and quickening of the intellect. Curious, competitive, and a fast learner, Christina has an incisive mind, although she may be considered self-opinionated and rather aggressive in speech.

Whatever her ultimate destination, her path towards it is likely to lead through the field of communication, for Mercury has equipped her with the ability and drive to express herself, and to get to the point very quickly.

Mental Data Bank - 'Close One' ★★★★★

Mercury Sextiles Jupiter

Curious about a wide range of subjects, and eager to broaden her mind as much as possible, Christina will find that the acquisition of knowledge comes easily to her. She will rapidly build up a substantial mental data bank of facts, figures, and general information, and will enjoy airing her views and opinions whenever she can. She has confidence in her intellectual abilities, and may be firm in her belief that her opinion is the only right one.

To teach is to learn twice, they say, and Christina will love to pass on her knowledge and wisdom. In this respect she is an inspirational teacher, arousing great enthusiasm in the minds of others. And, even if she is not too sure of her facts, or a little imprecise with her figures, she nonetheless excels at putting over the meaning of her ideas.

Practical - 'Close One' ★★★★★☆

Mercury Sextiles Saturn

Mentally disciplined, Christina is able to use her logical and practical mind to plan constructively and shape her thinking. Academically, she is not afraid of hard work; her preparation is thorough; and she is ready to do what may be necessary to achieve success.

Earning and Spending Money

In this section we shall look at how Christina is likely to develop in terms of her attitude towards the acquisition and expenditure of money.

Respect

 02

Capricorn 2nd House Cusp

Christina is ambitious for wealth and, more particularly, for the respect it can buy her. She will work long and hard in order to make money and, once she's got it, she'll make it work for her. She will invest her money wisely and shrewdly.

Good Values

 2nd

Moon in the 2nd House

Christina has a strong need for emotional security, and one of the things that makes her feel comfortable and safe is a healthy bank balance. Another source of emotional security is a good, solid value system. The more strength and support her family can give her in this respect, the more content she will be.

Energetic

 2nd

Mars in the 2nd House

The normal ways of earning money as an employee may be too slow for Christina's liking, and so she might prefer to be self-employed, or to start up a business of her own. As well as entrepreneurial skills she can boast executive action, assertiveness, desire for money and, above all, energy, so she is likely to be a force to be reckoned with! The process of money making excites and motivates her.

More about Christina's Attitude Towards Finances

Power of Money

Venus in Scorpio

Christina is very aware of the power of money, and knows how to use it to her advantage. She will rarely - if ever - have occasion to throw herself on the mercy of her bank manager for an overdraft, for she will invariably have a secret fund of money held in reserve. Preferring to deal with other people's money rather than her own, she could be attracted to the profession of a stockbroker, investment consultant or banker.

Several Fortunes

Venus in the 12th House

Christina is likely to display from a very early stage, a rather ambivalent attitude towards money and in later life could well make and lose several fortunes.

Chapter 3 - Preparing for Independence

Higher Education and Establishing Values

In this section we shall examine how Christina is likely to find her place in society, as she grows older. What standards she will set for herself and what she values most. This will probably not become clear until Christina has reached at least the puberty stage.

Leo in 9th House

♋ 09th

Leo 9th House Cusp

Christina may well decide that further education is not really worthwhile unless some definite advantage can be gained. She is unlikely to be the sort who enjoys education simply for its own sake.

More about Christina's Philosophy and Further Education

Jupiter in Libra

Jupiter in Libra

Christina is likely to be highly principled, with a strong sense of justice. The law, and egalitarian issues, will be of particular interest and concern to her, and could well be the subject of study in higher education. She will also probably decide, from the social point of view that, going on to further education is an excellent idea.

Christina's Education

Jupiter in 11th House

♃ 11th

Jupiter in the 11th House

Christina will probably take to further education completely naturally. It is the perfect environment for her in which she can expound and expand her theories on life the universe and everything while making many new friends. She really should be encouraged to take her education as far as is humanly possible.

Jupiter Sextile Mercury - 'Close One' ★★★★★

Jupiter Sextiles Mercury

Christina is one of those rare creatures who actually enjoys learning! Her mind is well developed, and her natural curiosity practically insatiable. She will probably be keen to go on to higher education at the appropriate time.

She can think a project through, and she is able to imagine the consequences of any plan. Her thought processes are positive - and optimistic!

She will grow into a clear and comfortable sense of her own identity and validity that she will use for the benefit of others.

Jupiter Square Mars ★☆☆☆☆

Jupiter Squares Mars

Energetic, enthusiastic and assertive, this child has an immense faith in her own abilities and, as a consequence, is unwilling ever to take 'No' for an answer. Should she be thwarted, her assertion is likely to turn - extremely swiftly - to aggression. Christina may have difficulty in controlling her temper.

Christina may display, as she grows older, a kind of anger with the universe she has been born into. Her own value system will most likely be forged more through antagonism rather than the concept of co-operation.

Jupiter Conjunct Saturn - 'Close One' ★★★★★

Jupiter Conjuncts Saturn

Christina is likely to meet certain obstacles during her lifetime, and these must be tackled and overcome before she can develop. For instance, a pessimistic streak may prevent her from seeing opportunities or she may lack the confidence to take advantage of them when she does spot them. Rigidity of thought may inhibit flexibility of aspiration.

Christina is likely to establish her own personal belief system based on the idea of constant change. She will always feel that any established system, her own included, should be regularly replaced to prevent rot setting in. In this sense she has what might be termed a revolutionary streak.

Approach to Daily Working Life

This section will look at how Christina may approach the thorny problem of working for a living. Naturally this will not begin to show until her teenage years, but as with everything else, forewarned is forearmed and there will always be ways to produce the most positive outcome!

Taurus in 6th House

Taurus 6th House Cusp

Work for Christina is a means to an end, a way of making a living so that she can afford what she wants in life. She will be a steady and stable worker.

Mercury in Sagittarius

Mercury in Sagittarius

Working in the travel industry would be an ideal job for Christina. Her relaxed and easy way enables her to get on well with people from foreign countries, and she would make an excellent holiday representative or tour guide. She might also be drawn to work in the educational field, or to a job connected with publishing.

Mercury in 1st House

Mercury in the 1st House

In her work, Christina will employ her personality and make the most of her charisma to the full. She has 'character' and will use this in conjunction with her communicative skills. A talkative personality, she would work well in radio or television, or in some writing field.

Career and Ambitions

In this section we shall look at how Christina might approach the outside world in terms of possible careers and potential ambitions as she grows to maturity. Naturally these traits are unlikely to show until Christina is at least in her teens.

More about Christina's Possible Career Approaches

Saturn in Libra

Saturn in Libra

'How to Win Friends and Influence People' is a book which Christina will have no real need to read, for she has an innate sense of social awareness and responsibility, and knows instinctively how to get the best from others. She knows, too, that far more is gained by co-operation than by force.

The wheels of her professional life will be liberally oiled by her harmonious social relationships and her ability to interact with other people. Her career, therefore, should make the most of her social skills and special strengths in dealing with other people, and she would do well in the Law, or in one of the arbitration, mediation, or advisory services.

But there is a slight drawback to the picture of Christina as a 'latter-day Solomon', dispensing wisdom and rulings to all and sundry. Because one of the things she fears most is to be considered unjust, unfair, or biased in some way, she may act preventively, over-compensating by being a little too rigid in her interpretation of fairness or justice, and this of course may appear harsh and unjust to others.

Christina may defer marrying until she is fully mature, or may choose an older partner, or one whose professional status or social position can aid her own professional aspirations.

Saturn in 11th House

Saturn in the 11th House

It is likely that Christina will be attracted to one of the science fields. She would be good at managing a large work force in a big company, where she can weld together individuals into a cohesive unit.

She may have a strong humanitarian bent that could find a suitable outlet in an aid agency or environmental group.
